DAY 4 Saturday 20 September

Buenos Aires / Iguazu Falls

Very early this morning you will be collected from your hotel and transferred out to Buenos Aires' Domestic Airport to join your flight to Iguazu Falls, considered by many as the most impressive in the world and surpassing in grandeur both Niagara and Victoria Falls. Some 275 separate cascades fall in a wild array of spray over a winding 3 kilometre cliff frontage into a gorge 60 metres deep. One of the most spectacular of the falls is aptly named "The Devil's Throat". You will be met from your flight and taken on an extensive walking tour of the Argentine side of the falls. You will then be transferred to the Brazil side of the falls, to the famous Das Cataratas Hotel, directly overlooking the falls and where you have two night's accommodation. The remainder of your afternoon is at leisure. (B)

DAS CATARATAS HOTEL, SUPERIOR ROOM

If you take your camera with you today, be sure to take a plastic bag to keep it dry. The spray can make you quite damp at times. Remember also to take your insect repellent with you.

It is worth making a reservation for the BBQ near the pool tonight. Be sure to try Brazil's famous cocktail-the 'Caipirinha'-it is fantastic but quite fiery!

DAY 5 Sunday 21 September

Iguassu Falls

This morning you will be taken on a guided walking tour of the Brazil side of the falls. Later you will be driven through the rain forest by 4-wheel drive jeep to the Iguassu River where you board your powerful inflated boat for an incredibly spectacular ride up the river to the base of the falls. The rest of your afternoon is at leisure. You may like to arrange an optional helicopter flight over the falls or a visit to the bird park. (B)

I recommend that you wear your swimming costume under your clothes to morning and take a dry set of clothes with you, as you are going to get wet!

If you take your camera with you today, be sure to take a plastic bag to keep it dry. At times, you may get quite wet. Remember also to take your insect repellent with you.

On arrival in Rio you will be met and taken to your hotel located right on Copacabana for three nights. Rio de Janeiro sweeps twenty kilometres along the narrow alluvial strip between the mountains and the sea. The combination of the dark blue sea, studded with rocky islands, and the tumbling wooded mountains and expanses of bare grey rock which surround the city is very impressive. Brazilians say: "God made the world in six days, the seventh He devoted to Rio". (B)

Please note in Rio there is a room tax of approx US$3, payable direct to the hotel each day.*

PORTO BAY RIO INTERNATIONAL HOTEL, STANDARD ROOM

Be sure to have some small coins handy today for photographing the locals. 1 Sol per person photographed is the standard amount expected (whether you take 1 photo or 10). Some people will try and push you for more but it is not necessary. Unfortunately many children choose to forego their schooling as they can earn more money from tourists than their father may earn in one week working the fields. We try not to upset the balance too much.

You will need to pack a small overnight bag for your overnight excursion to Machu Picchu. Peru Rail has a strict baggage policy for the train service to/from Aguas Calientes. One bag or backpack per person with a total weight of no more than 5kg and dimensions of 157cm (length + height + width). Baggage that exceeds these measurements will not be accepted. Your main luggage will be taken to your Cuzco hotel where it will safely await your arrival.

DAY 13 Monday 29 September

Sacred Valley of the Incas / Machu Picchu / Aguas Calientes

After breakfast please make your way to the train station out the front of your hotel for the 7.12am train excursion to Machu Picchu arriving at 9.24am. Your journey will follow the Urubamba River on one of the great train journeys of the world. On arrival at Aguas Calientes Train Station you will be assisted in the change to a regular shuttle bus service, for the 25 minute transfer up the side of the mountain to Machu Picchu, also known as the “Lost City of the Incas” and undoubtedly the best known and the most spectacular archeological site on the continent. You will be taken on a guided tour of the ruins visiting the Main Square, the Royal Quarters, the Temple of the Three Windows, the Circular Towers, the Sacred Sun Dial and the Burial Grounds. This afternoon you will enjoy lunch at the Sanctuary Lodge Restaurant. This afternoon you will make your way back down to the township of Aguas Calientes—an absolute highlight in itself! Enjoy dinner at your hotel this evening. (BLD)

INKATERRA MACHU PICCHU PUEBLO, SUPERIOR ROOM

Machu Picchu is undoubtedly the best known and most spectacular archaeological site on the continent. The site discovered in 1911 was very different to the one you see today. All the buildings were thickly overgrown with vegetation. On clearing the thick forest from the ruins, over 50 burial sites were discovered containing over 100 skeletal remains, about 80% female. An early theory was that it was a city of chosen women who catered to the Incas' needs but this has lost support, and it is now thought that Machu Picchu was already an uninhabited, forgotten place at the time of conquest. The ruins: staircases, terraces, temples, palaces, towers, fountains, the famous sundial and the Museo de Sitio below the ruins require at least a day or two to explore properly. The mountain overlooking the site, Wayna Picchu (on which there are also some ruins), has steps to the top for a superlative view of the whole area. This walk takes about 60 minutes but the steps can be dangerous after rain and the numbers of climbers each day are limited.

You have the morning free to further explore the ruins of Machu Picchu. Early morning is best to try to avoid the large crowds. You may like to walk to Intipunku, known as the sun gate. This is reached by taking the opposite direction of arrival of the Inca Trail. You can walk about an hour up to the gate. Or you may like to walk up Wayna Picchu, the picturesque mountain backdrop shown in the classic photographs. This afternoon please make your way back to the station for the 3.20pm afternoon train to Poroy, where you will be met and driven to Cuzco. On arrival you will be taken to your hotel for three fabulous nights. Cuzco is the archaeological capital of the Americas and the continent's oldest continuously inhabited city. Massive Inca-built stonewalls line most of Cuzco's central streets to form the foundations of Colonial and modern buildings. The streets are often stepped and narrow and thronged with Quechua-speaking descendants of the Incas. (B)

A 25 minute journey down the Madre de Dios River by motor canoe brings you to the start of the trail to Sandoval Lake Lodge, your home for two nights. (Please note that the walk into Sandoval Lake takes approx 1 hour).

This trail takes you past a flooded forest of 30 metre high Mauritia palms. After a customary siesta, you will board the catamaran and set off to explore the Sandoval Lake. Here, in the flooded forest it's possible to drift beneath babbling red-bellied Macaws as they return to the forest for the night. You are returned to the lodge around nightfall for dinner. After dinner you may wish to return to the catamaran to look for large black Caimans, the rarest of the crocodile species of the Amazon. If it is clear starlight you may also be able to float in the middle of the lake and marvel at the brilliance of the night sky. (BLD)

After breakfast you set off into the cool canopy of the tall virgin forest to see some towering wild Brazil Nut trees and to view how the Indian community farm their land. (BLD)
