Day 2: 19 February 2017 Sunday Kalaw – Inle Lake

After breakfast we travel through the beautiful natural forest and rural scenery of Kalaw area. Your guide, specialized in Elephant conservation, will take you for a rewarding day in the forest surrounding Kalaw encountering elephants, their mahouts and people living in the surrounding area.

A group of young tourism professionals originating from Kalaw decided to set-up a project in Kalaw that focused on protecting nature, elephants and the traditions of the local people living in an area close to Kalaw. In a big part of this private protected forest, nature can grow undisturbed creating a natural habitat for animals that could otherwise be easily hunted down and killed. The project includes creating a natural environment for some Myanmar elephants from this part of the world and helping the local population to grow out of the vicious circle of poverty through education and micro finance.

Depending on your arrival time and how long you want to walk through the forest (walks from 30 min up to 4-5 hours are possible – simply let us know what you prefer) you will find yourself in the natural surroundings of Asian jungle

A delicious lunch with local specialities (often from Nepalese origin) will be served in a traditional village, in the jungle or in the camp.

After lunch it is time to help the mahout washing and feeding the elephant. Walk back in the afternoon to the main road and continue by road. En route we stop to visit a traditional paper and parasol making 'factory', and then continue to Inle Lake.

Located in southern Shan State Inle Lake is a vast natural lake surrounded by traditional Shan villages. On the lake itself the Intha people have been living for many centuries in villages built entirely on stilts. We travel by private longboat to reach our lakeside accommodation where we relax for the next 3 nights. (BL)

Day 3: 20 February 2017 Monday

Inle Lake

The Shan cuisine is famous for its refined taste and the possibility to make amazing dishes with just a few local ingredients. At 08:30 the local chef of the Viewpoint restaurant will take you to the market for a discovery of local products which you will bring back to the kitchen of the restaurant. Learn the secret recipes of the Shan cuisine and cook your own lunch. An aperitif is offered in the kitchen. A great half day excursion that will teach you the basics of Shan cooking (to try it at home!)

We will also visit a local cheroot factory (where the Burmese cigars are made), floating tomato gardens, Phaung Daw Oo Pagoda, an Intha house.

Day 4: 21 February 2017 Tuesday Inle Lake

Today we will take you by private motorboat around the lake to discover the natural beauty of the lake, visit the floating gardens, see some of the famous leg rowers and have some tea at a local family's house. On and around the lake traditional markets are held in different villages according to a 5-day rotating schedule and today we will take you to visit a colourful market frequented by Shan and PaO people living nearby.

In the south of the lake the ruins of Indein are certainly worth a visit. Partly covered by vegetation the area looks like a "pagoda forest". We will walk about 1 hour to enjoy a fantastic view over the lake. A home-made cooked lunch is served in a local house. We continue towards the Nam Pan village for a very interesting trip going local with a small canoe. Whenever you are tired paddling yourself we continue by motorboat back to your hotel. (B,L) hotel contract rates or airline price increases. It is therefore in your interest to protect against such increases by paying in full at your earliest possible convenience. Once you have paid in full, your tour price is 'locked-in'. At the very least it is recommended to pay for flights at time of deposit to ensure the included quoted fare is locked in - any increase in air taxes or airfare are not applicable once ticket has been issued.
