Departure to Évora, Cheese making, Tiles M'Ar de Ar

After the check-out from your hotel, our guide and driver will meet you to depart towards the Alentejo. On the way, you will stop in Arrábida Mountain to experience two traditions of the Portuguese: cheese & tiles productions and The Azeitão cheese, a truly special one. After the yew's milk has been gathered, it's coagulated with a thistle from a cardoon that grows wild in Portugal giving it a very special flavor. After this process it's time to use your hands. The curd must be divided, by hand of course, squeezed, adjusted to the molds and the work will continue... The final result after a maturation of a few weeks is a small rounded cheese with a running texture perfect to scoop out from the top. Finally after the work is complete it's time to sit down and taste some of these cheeses that will be, we are sure, fully appreciated after the work that you now know is behind the making of this cheese. Then, you will continue to the Atelier of Azeitão glazed tiles, and experience painting your own tile! This is a very special activity in which you will learn more about this tradition that still continues in small production centers where you can learn how the glazed tiles are made from the start. You will paint your own glazed tile with your own designs or copying famous panels. After preparing the clay you can sit down and as you carefully paint the tile you can always count on the specialized help of masters of Azeitão.

Since it needs to be fired in order to transform from a piece of ceramic into a work of art, it won't be ready on the same day, and we will deliver your tile at your hotel in Lisbon before you leave Portugal.

At the end, you will proceed to Sesimbra that has been intimately connected to the sea for centuries due to the fishing activity which is still an important part of the community's life. The town has a very nice beach, good restaurants and you can visit the Castle, on top of a hill, affording great views to Sesimbra and the Atlantic Ocean. Here, you will have lunch admiring the sea at the restaurant O Velho e o Mar. After lunch, you will continue to Évora.

In the morning, after checking out of your hotel, you will depart towards the Douro Valley. The first stop will be at Quinta da Ervamoira, located near Foz Coa, one of the most remote places of Portugal, on a region where the climate is hot in the summer and cold in the winter providing the ideal conditions for the production of some of the best Portuguese Wines. We assure you that although it will take you a little while to reach Quinta da Ervamoira it is worth every single minute of the trip! After getting to the village of Muxagata, we will get on a 4x4 vehicle that will drive us to the vineyards. Crossing rocky hills and old water streams we will reach the top of a hill and when you look down you will have hundreds of hectares of vineyards at your feet in an unmatched setting almost hard to believe in. Right in the middle of the vineyards you will find the little museum telling some of the old stories of this property.

The lunch will be served outside the porch where you will try some of the local specialties and, of course, the renowned Erva Moira wines that go by the name of Ramos Pinto. It will be hard to leave, we know, but we are sure that you will want to come back or that, at least, you will cherish these memories for ever. Then, you will have a private river cruise in the Douro: during this very special activity you will have the opportunity to board an eco-luxury boat in one of the little villages along the Douro Valley and enjoy this once in a lifetime experience, during a private cruise along the river.
